

Experience Incorta Copilot Today

Uncover the Power of AI with Your Data

Experience AI

Are you eager to explore the potential of AI with your own data? We're offering a unique hands-on experience with Incorta's AI capabilities and your data. Provide us a CSV file with the data you want to experiment with, this could be your company's data or generic data. We'll upload your data to an Incorta instance where we'll walk you through the Incorta Copilot features.

This is a fantastic opportunity to:

- GenAI Code Assistance: Generate code for data enrichment through natural language prompting.
- Gain Valuable Insights: Ask Incorta Copilot to generate visualizations and answer questions based on your data set.
- Interact with Experts: Engage with our specialists who can guide you through the process and answer any questions.

If you don't have your data available during NoLimits, we are offering 30-minute virtual meetings for a similar experience. Simply provide us with the data, and we will set up a virtual meeting following the event.

Assessing Your Data Readiness for AI

After exploring Incorta Copilot but before implementing AI in your business, PMSquare will conduct an AI readiness assessment*. This assessment goes beyond Incorta's AI capabilities, providing deeper insights into whether your data is ready for AI and ensuring your company is fully prepared to leverage AI's potential. It will also detail how Incorta can be involved in your AI strategy.
